SCENE: Please read part A in ONE of the following scenes using an off-camera reader.

Scene 1 (Choose mom or dad)

A: Mom/dad?

B: Yeah?

A: I need to ask you something

B: No.

A: What do you mean, no?

B: I know what you’re going to ask and the answer is no.

A: How can you know what I’m going to ask before I even…

B: Because I’m your mom/dad. I know everything.

A: This sucks.

B: Don’t say “sucks.”

A: Oh my god.

B: If you take out the trash, you can have the car. But be home by midnight.

A: How did you know that’s what I was going to ask?!

B: I cloned your phone.

A: Wow. That’s…

B: Do you want the car or not?

A: You’re insane.

B: Be home by midnight. And don’t forget the trash.

A: Fascist.
Scene 2

A: I feel like you’re mad about something.

B: Am I?

A: Are you?

B: What do you think?

A: I told you what I think. I think you’re mad about something.

B: What would I be mad about?

A: I forgot to text you.

B: There it is.

A: I’m sorry.

B: Whatever.

BEAT

A: (sends text)

B: (reads text) That doesn’t count.

A: Come on. Can we be not in a fight now?

B: (sends a text)

A: (reads it) You are a third grader.

B: I know you are but what am I?
Scene 3

A: So I said, maybe that’s the problem.

B: What did he say?

A: “Exactly.” And then he just started playing World of Warcraft.

B: What does that mean?

A: I don’t know! That's what you’re supposed to tell me.

B: I have zero idea.

A: And there were like, NOTES everywhere.

B: What do you mean notes?

A: Like sticky notes. On everything.

B: What did they say?

A: I don’t know. The writing was really small.

B: This is getting super weird.

A: Right?

B: Don’t go over there again.

A: Yeah. But… like...

B: Don’t ask my advice if you’re not gonna take it.

A: I’m not asking your advice, but, what would you do?

B: I’m not answering that.

A: Come on.
