IV. Advising

Each student enrolled in the M.F.A. program is assigned to an academic advisor (from among the faculty who teach in the Playwriting/Directing area of the department). With this advisor, the student plans courses each semester, prepares the Program of Study that guides coursework and fulfills other requirements for the degree. The academic advisor helps the student decide how to plan the core courses and production practicums, as well as electives that support the major field of study. At the end of the student's second year of coursework the student proposes two to three faculty members who would be appropriate to read and supervise the thesis project. The Playwriting/Directing area faculty consult and select one of these faculty members as supervisor. The academic advisor can help with this transition. The Department Graduate Advisor signs off on all the student's paperwork.

V. Coursework

The M.F.A. degree is completed within three years of study, including coursework, thesis preparation and defense.

VI. Program of Study

Before registration in the first week of the first semester in the program students must complete a Program of Study together with their academic advisor. The Program of Study should be completed on the form provided by the Graduate Coordinator and submitted to the Graduate Advisor. The M.F.A. program requires successful completion of 60 hours of coursework and thesis preparation:

1. Studio, theory and skills courses (36 credits)
2. Electives (12 credits)
3. Applied Practice Courses (6 credits)
4. Thesis Course Hours (6 credits)

Curricula specific to each discipline within the program may be found on the department website under Graduate Programs > Directing.

The Office of Graduate Studies allows M.F.A. students to include up to nine hours of upper-division undergraduate courses in their programs of study. Such courses should only be taken after consultation with a faculty advisor.

VII. Thesis

The thesis will be reviewed per the standards of the performing arts industries and the university's standards of research. The thesis will consist of two parts:

1. A demonstration of artistry and skill in the candidate's area(s) of focus.
2. A significant demonstration of mastered rehearsal practices, through an intensive workshop with professional actors.

The graduate thesis serves as the capstone of the candidate's graduate work at The University of Texas at Austin. It is the final opportunity for the M.F.A. candidate to demonstrate her/his aesthetic, artistic, intellectual and technical acumen relative to the standards of the professional model. The thesis is subject to the requirements of the university and the Graduate School. This means that a supervisor, usually the student's primary advisor, and an additional reader will examine the thesis in detail. The thesis will culminate in an oral defense of the work.

VIII. Continuing in the M.F.A. Program

Each semester, the Playwriting/Directing area faculty, along with the Graduate Studies Committee XCOM, evaluate student progress. Continuing in the program is dependent on the student's satisfactory progress, as determined by the Graduate School policies in its most current bulletin. The Playwriting/Directing faculty expect a consistent grade point average of at least 3.0, no record of lingering incomplete coursework, positive participation in and a clear commitment to the program and satisfactory and timely progress toward academic requirements and the degree. Unsatisfactory progress may result in a period of probation which may include rescinded financial support and cancelled teaching assistant opportunities. If a period of probation is recommended by the XCOM a letter will be sent to the student by the Director of Graduate Studies outlining the reasons for and the consequences of the probation and detailing the steps the student must take to be returned to non-probationary status. If the program does not see satisfactory progress following the period of probation, the student could be dismissed from the program. See the University's probation and dismissal policies for more information.

IX. Accommodations and Leaves

Accommodations: Students who require accommodations should contact and register with Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD). It is important to discuss approved accommodations with your advisor and professors.

Leaves of Absence: Leaves of absence are strongly discouraged and should only be considered if necessary. Graduate students may apply for a leave of absence of no more than two semesters. A student on leave may not use university facilities nor is the student entitled to receive advice from any member of the faculty. A leave of absence does not alter the time limits for degrees or coursework. For information on requesting a leave of absence or re-admission refer to the Graduate School: <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/policies/leaves-of-absence>
